

One of the challenges with fundraising is that it generally requires significant manpower and commitment to be successful. More and more organizations are relying on fundraising, which means selling candy bars and candles. All we ask for is a safe, flat place to setup and that you get the players.

Puttering Around does the work and brings the fun, while you make the profit. The amount of money you make is established by you, using a price structure you choose. Rate of hole sponsors: You choose Rate to play: You choose

You determine the purpose of the game: Fun/Prizes/Annual Tournament
